ePublishing reflects a comprehensive publication management approach which validates content quality, enhances open access, and promotes sustainable publishing models. Our services include:

Content management and publishing software for journals and conference proceedings (Open Journals System – OJS) that fully supports key administrative and publication procedures such as article submission, peer review process, content editing and layout, etc.

Electronic Press setup and publishing software for monographs (Open Monograph Press – OMP), a valuable tool that assists publishers at all stages of the publishing process

Training in the basic functionalities of the ePublishing software

Consulting and Advisory services designed to help publishers leverage technology, shape guidelines and editorial policies compliant with the current international standards for scholarly communication

eKnowledgebase, with comprehensive guidelines and detailed information on how to integrate digital tools and applications in the publishing workflows

Content Services: data and metadata documentation and organization

Technical support of the journal's digital edition

Web hosting Services for e-journals, monographs, books, conference proceedings

Indexing services based on catalogues and international directories (e.g. Scopus, DOAJ, DOAB, ISI)

Compliance with the international copyright standards and development of sustainable open access-oriented business models

Promotion and publicity services based on EKT's communication strategies

Statistical data and reports for the assessment of publications' readability and impact